

Mornin Star Risin By Jean E. Holmes It begins with the History of the Gullah slaves from Africa, It is a story of how the whites and the blacks co existed the last 10 years before the civil War: Old jim who knows the area of waterways around coastal South Carolina and keeps the house hold stocked with Fish. It is the love story of Jeremiah who runs the stables and Mama Beezie the children's nanny and their love story. How they adopt and raise a crippled grandchild who learns to walk with their help: How Master and Mrs Weldon when they have a baby let and love Mama , You see spiritualism and Christianity in the slaves and young master Weldon sees more devil worship than he ever dreamed of: A person is never defined by their color but by their soul[1]

Mornin Star Risin

This is a great book. It is book one of a five part series. Highly intelligent they stayed concentrated in South Carolina. This is based on a true story. This Master gives his slaves autonomy. Beezie's crippled grandchild and welcome them into their home. You see good and wicked white and black folks. This is a TEn++++ Book. Paperback.