

Beli Rajputan Ki Malika / بیللی راجپوتان کی ملکہ By Nemrah Ahmed Zehra a very typical village girl who's beautiful immature engaged and in love with Badar who in turn is interested in Maya the deceiver whose deception is not even known to Badar. Not liking it much somewhere in the middle but now I won't hesitate saying that the ending turned the book for me :) Fiction Spirituality کسی جب سے محبت کی جاتی ہے تو دل میں ایک قبرستان بھی بنایا جاتا ہے جس میں اپنے محبوب کی تمام خامیاں دفن کر دی جاتی ہیں اور پھر ان کے کتبے نہیں لگائے جاتے۔ Nadir loved Zehra. And Maya? She Loved Herself! Ending was unpredictable she left badar in regret! No Doubt she was the famous stage actress of london! Fiction Spirituality It was fabulous or I can say that it was the best work by nimra ahmed among her all novels !! I know JKP fans wont agree ;) Fiction Spirituality It was good Fiction Spirituality.

Spirituality I've read almost all collections of Nemrah Ahmed: Beli Rajputan is the name of the village and the story is about the Queen of that village "Maya Fernandez": The story starts with Maya coming to Beli Rajputan from Amritsar and finds out that his husband Shikar died in a fire that erupted in the drawing-room of their house. And when Maya is back he came to know that his husband's cremation affairs are already completed, A legend is common among Beli rajputan's dwellers that in an old Muslim graveyard there is a ghost who is digging in the graveyard: A man Badar Ghazan is a very famous archer in Beli Rajputan. An incredible novel full of suspense and thrill !!! It kept me hooked on and anticipating for whats coming next. Writer magnificantly pictured the scenario as if we are looking into past with our own eyes, The characters Badar Ghazan Zahra and Maya make you fall in love with their love trio, Fiction his cousin is deeply in love with him but Badar falls for Maya Fernandez, Badar and Maya together finding out Shikar's death mystery and that so-called ghost in the graveyard. Because only Maya and Badar believe that it is human that is impersonating like a ghost: Although the story is quite fast-paced and thrilling; I find it a little bit alike with Taliyah's tenure as Shezadi Taasha: Fiction Spirituality I remember reading this novel instead of preparing for my Mcat. Fiction Spirituality Spoiler alert: This novel is traumatizing ☹☹. I loved it despite the emotional wreckage bcz of the PLOT and TWISTS which kept me engaged till end but still not gonna recommend to anyone☹☹☹: Fiction Spirituality good suspense :-) Fiction Spirituality I feel like I devoured the book for its ending: What I expected to be a modest tale turned out to have a killer-ending (as I call it). Badar (Charming handsome and whatnot) turns out to be served by the unmatched actress of London Maya/Mehreen, An unexpected end which turned my feelings for the novel to a different scale, In search of beli rajpooton ki malika Maya leaves none undeceived, If I had not read the last page I would have taken Maya to be dead: Maya from the start had a very mysterious air who remained unfathomable till the end. This book is on my to-be-read list for a long time. And I eventually completed it in one sitting. Maya senses something is fishy in his husband's death. Maya came to know about the legend of Beli's ghost. Maya was sure that this is a ridiculous belief. He is very well known in his village. Zohra.

Nimra Ahmed Khan is a writer. Her first novel was published in Khwateen Digest. Nimra Ahmed Khan is a writer. Her first novel was published in Khwateen Digest. The story is set in past before partition of subcontinent. I pronounce Maya as the leading lady of the novel. She can't be loved and she can't be hated. Yet she made others do what she desires. I wish they make a movie out of this novel. SPOILER ALERT Maya was a con artist. Pretty much explains It was a good read. Zehra Loved Badar. Badar Loved Maya
